Senator Quotes Federal

National Wealth as Ten
Billions Under Claim.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Senator Hastings, republican, Delaware, tonight challenged both the fiscal estimates and economic theories voiced by President Roosevelt in his last major public address, asserting the chief executive had made a "deliberate effort to confuse and mislead."

This statement, coupled with another republican statement the New Deal and federal agencies were putting out campaign "propaganda" at public expense, marked the opening of a hectic political week.

Although national interest focused mainly upon the democratic and republican primaries next Tuesday in New Jersey, the week's schedule included also 10 democratic state conventions, three state republican conventions, a democratic primary in the District of Columbia and the socialist national convention at Cleveland.

516 Pledged to F. D. R.
With 516 delegates to the democratic national convention already instructed for Mr. Roosevelt, 174 others uninstructed but pledged to the President, and 172 others to be chosen this week, the question of whether the 1,100-delegate Philadelphia convention retains, or abandons the two-thirds rule—as predicted—appeared a matter of little consequence.

On the anti-New Deal front, with the opening of the republican convention at Cleveland only 24 days away, these developments appeared:

Hastings' Reply.
Senator Hastings, in a radio reply to the President's speech of April 25, struck at Mr. Roosevelt's statements that the federal deficit this year "is about $3,000,000,000," and that the national income has risen $30,000,000,000 this year as compared to 1932. Hastings asserted Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board, had repudiated the income figure and Secretary Morgenthau placed the deficit.

Dr. Herty Discovers
Wealth in Potatoes

MACON, Ga., May 17.—(AP)—Dr. Charles H. Herty, whose conversion of pine into paper and rayon forecast new industries for the south, suggested today the sweet potato, as a source of motor fuel and starch, has great possibilities.

"Through the new use of the sweet potato alone, the south can realize more wealth than it ever did from king cotton," said the noted scientist, who is director of an experimental paper and pulp laboratory at Savannah.

He came to Macon to speak before the Georgia Association of Commercial Secretaries, which closed its annual convention Saturday.

Army and Socialists Seize Bolivia
As Culmination of General Strike

Dissatisfied Veterans of Chaco Take Things in Own Hands.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 17.—(AP)—Bolivia army officers and civilian members of the socialist party took over the country's government today in a bloodless, shotless coup, forcing President Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano to resign.

The officers, veterans of the three-year Chaco War, went to the home of the chief executive—who himself seized power by a coup in November, 1934—and demanded his written resignation. He quickly gave it.

Junta to Rule.
Colonel German Busch, acting chief of the army general staff, who led the coup, announced a junta composed of officers and socialists would direct the country and "organize a new fatherland upon bases of social justice, equity and equality more in accord with the times in which we are living."

His manifesto declared a few powerful persons at present hold "the great fortunes formed by exploiting the natural riches of our territory."

The immediate objective of the new administration, however, was complete settlement of a general strike which began Friday night, which the officers asserted was imperiling the country's economic stability. The labor federation quickly suspended the strike movement, expressing solidarity with the army-socialist coup.

Post-War Disaffection.
As in Paraguay, where Chaco War veterans rebelled February 17 and ousted President Eusebio Ayala, the Bolivian government's overthrow was the result of post-war disaffection following the years of fighting with an estimated loss of 100,000 men on both sides.

One of the contributing factors in the serious political situation was continuance of a "state of war" in this country even after the Chaco conflict ended and exchange of prisoners was begun. Some parties opposed to the Tejada Sorzano government assailed

2 DEAL RULINGS
EXPECTED TODAY

High Court May Pass on Legality of Guffey Coal and Bankruptcy Acts.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—The constitutionality of two New Deal laws—the Guffey coal control and the municipal bankruptcy acts—may be decided tomorrow by the supreme court.

Reassembling after a two-week recess, the nine justices also are expected to announce whether they will pass on the legality of PWA loans for public-owned hydro-electric projects.

If they agree, a final ruling will, however, be deferred until next fall. Principal interest centers on the long-awaited Guffey decision, involving price-fixing and regulation of wages and hours in the soft coal industry. The case has been under consideration longer than any other New Deal dispute.

Arguments were completed on March 12.

W. J. Sturdivant is survived by his widow and six children. Mr. Dozier leaves a widow, three daughters and four sons.

ROOSEVELT MOVES TO KEEP TVA CALM

Attempts Made To Prevent
Discord Developing Into Open Break.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—President Roosevelt has made a desperate, zero-hour attempt to keep discord rocking the three-man Tennessee Valley Authority from developing into an open break and endangering operations of the administration's ace "yardstick" power project, it was learned tonight.

It is one of the strangest situations that has arisen under the many-sided New Deal. As it roared toward a climax, it has defied solution by Mr. Roosevelt, a senator, a publisher, a governor and others who have worked quietly on the problem for many weeks.

Involved are two men in whose hands the President has entrusted a large measure of responsibility for success of his far-flung power program.

Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the board of engineers and general administrative head of TVA, who is 58 years old, former president of Antioch College and regarded by New Dealers as an engineering genius, has had charge of 75 flood control and reclamation projects and is the guiding hand behind the administration's efforts to rehabilitate the Tennessee valley through "regional planning."

End of Story Seen.
David L. Lilienthal, brilliant, 36-year-old general counsel of TVA, who also has charge of the project's power policies. He is rigorous, hard-hitting and as public utilities commission of Wisconsin succeeded in reorganizing utility statutes and forcing reductions in telephone rates.

The end to the story may be written tomorrow in the United States senate when Lilienthal's name is expected to be submitted for re-nomination on the day his three-year term in office expires.

First word that strife existed in the Authority reached high administration authorities several weeks ago when Morgan J. C. it was known that he was dissatisfied with Lilienthal and that he would resign if the general counsel was re-nominated.

The report shocked New Dealers as a second section.

FRENCH LEFTISTS
EYE DICTATORSHIP
TO ENFORCE PLANS

Break-Up of Popular
Front Looms Already,
With Communists Irked.
Chamber Split Certain.

PARIS, May 17.—(AP)—The clenched fist of the leftist people's front holds power in France's new chamber of deputies with only parliamentary confusion foreseen by its critics, who still predict eventual evaluation of the franc.

Talk of a semi-dictatorship like that former Premier Pierre-Laval enjoyed with his economy decree laws has been revived. The man to take over if the people's front collapses has not yet appeared.

The left itself may undertake a sort of dictatorship, some French politicians say, if obstruction by the right minority makes hopeless their parliamentary law-making task.

Signs of discontent with the policies of Leon Blum, slated to be the next premier, already have appeared.

Communists Irked.
Gabriel Perri, one of the communist leaders, expressed disappointment at Blum's recent speech before the American Club because he failed to say what he intends to do about Adolf Hitler's "preposterous propositions" and also failed to mention the Franco-soviet mutual assistance pact.

Leon Jouhaux, leader of the powerful general confederation of labor, while promising co-operation with Blum, announced opposition to the idea of granting him decree law powers.

Colonel Francois De La Roque, leader of the rightist Croix De Feu, a war veterans' organization, predicted "all France" would turn toward the Croix De Feu when "parliament shows itself ungovernable."

"If a bloody dictatorship attempts to set itself up in our country we will

GANDHI SAYS INDIA

Britain Will Use Force
To Quell New Movement, Mahatma Avers.

WARDHA, India, May 17.—(AP)—"My life work is ruined," the Mahatma Gandhi said today in discussing, in his Ashram retreat here, the results of the recent Lucknow nationalist congress.

"Not even the firmness and repression of the British government," he said, "have harmed my work as much as the new policy outlined by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru," (new president of the Indian national congress).

He referred to a quarrel which has been brewing for a long time; a quarrel which has left Gandhi sullen and disappointed, with the feeling he has been betrayed by his best friends.

It is a clash between the young, politically aggressive Nehru and the soft-spoken Gandhi, still India's man of mystery, who does not believe in force.

The result has been a split in nationalist circles which, it is expected, will further weaken nationalist position.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—Instruction and entertainment of most of the nation's 125,000 blind by "talking books" was started on a country-wide scale by the New Deal tonight.

President Roosevelt allotted $40,000 work-relief funds for recording classic literature and modern-day writing on portable phonographs, and distributing them to poor sightless.

The American Federation for the Blind and prominent actors, writers and radio announcers are co-operating. The program was launched in New York city.

STATE CAMPAIGNS

Rivers and Larsen Will Begin Speaking Drives
in Middle June and July.
Others May Enter Race.

Off to a late start because of Governor Talmadge's opposition to President Roosevelt and his reluctance to announce his plans for the future, Georgia's gubernatorial campaign is under way with Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the house of representatives, and former Congressman W. W. Larsen announced candidates but both of them putting off until later the opening of their speaking campaigns.

Like Governor Talmadge, who has not announced what office he will seek, if any, Speaker Rivers will not begin active campaigning until July 4 when he speaks at an unannounced city. Judge Larsen, who has not yet made public his platform, likewise has not revealed the city or the date of his opening speech, although it is generally expected to be at his former home city of Swainsboro.

Anti-Talmadge Platform.
Speaker Rivers announced his candidacy at a meeting of more than 700 of his friends Saturday revealing that he will run on an anti-Talmadge platform calling for complete co-operation with the Roosevelt administration, old age pensions, free school books and a uniform seven-month school term. The Lakeland leader has a number of other issues but these are the paramount planks in his platform and the ones he stressed in his meeting Saturday.

At the Saturday meeting the friends of Speaker Rivers unanimously adopted a resolution praising the record of President Roosevelt and thanking the President's Georgia campaign manager, Marion H. Allen, for the success.

Political Results of Hauptmann Case Are Awaited With Interest.

TRENTON, N. J., May 17.—(AP)—The political results of the Hauptmann case will be in interest in Tuesday's New Jersey primary election with the first state preferential contest between Governor Alf M. Landon and Senator William E. Borah.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who once delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, is a candidate for delegate-at-large to the republican national convention. He is pledged to Landon.

Also pledged to Landon, but opposing the governor solely on the issue of his activities in the Hauptmann case, is former Representative Franklin V. Fort, of East Orange, a friend of Herbert Hoover.

Neither Borah nor Landon entered the primary under his own signature, but supporters placed their names in the preferential lists and backed them.

An hour later, Paul Sze, 35, first licensed Chinese guiding student in the United States, was injured seriously when his glider, being towed by an automobile, went into a nose dive from 200 feet in the air and crashed.

Len Small, Ex-Illinois Governor,
Succumbs Following Operation

Blood Clot Is Fatal to 73-
Year-Old G. O. P.
Leader.

KANKAKEE, Ill., May 17.—(UP)—Former Governor Len Small, 73, for many years a storm center of Illinois politics, died suddenly today at St. Mary's hospital of an embolism (blood clot) which developed after an operation performed a week ago.

Despite his advanced years Small had been politically active. He sought the republican nomination for governor in the recent Illinois primary but was defeated by Mayland C. Brooks.

He was five times a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, was nominated three times and elected to two terms, the first starting in 1921 and the second in 1925.

During Small's initial term he was charged with depositing surplus state money in banks of friends and profiting from the interest. Eventually, he was acquitted and re-elected. He ran for a third term, was sponsored in Chicago by Mayor William Hale Thompson and along with the Chicago mayor was defeated in an election which aroused national interest.

Small's first name was Lenington. He was known universally as "Len." Born at Kankakee June 16, 1862, he was the son of Abram Lenington Small and Calista Currier Small. In 1883 he married Ida Moore, of Kankakee, who died in 1922. They had three children, Budd L., Leslie C., and May.

In his early life he was a farmer and his vast estate at Kankakee was a show place of the region. As a hobby in late years he raised buffalo, deer, elk and birds, which he sold to zoos.

He began his political life as a member of the Kankakee county board of supervisors, was clerk of the circuit court and served a term in the state senate. He was state treasurer for two terms and under President Taft was assistant treasurer in charge of the United States subtreasury at Chicago.

About a week ago he became ill of a bladder ailment and submitted to an operation. A second was performed Tuesday and he appeared to be recovering when the embolism developed.

EMPLOYMENT AID
URGED BY A. F. L.

Government, Business
Asked To Co-operate To Put Jobless To Work.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Reiterating that re-employment is not keeping pace with recovery, the American Federation of Labor today issued a new appeal to the government and business to co-operate with labor in an attempt to put the jobless back to work.

Asserting that gains in profits of large corporations have far exceeded gains in production and that leading corporations are reporting earnings close to 1926 levels, the federation expressed concern over "the exceedingly serious re-employment shortage."

In its monthly survey of business, the federation asked:

"If we cannot count on business, without control, to put the unemployed to work, how, then, can a place be found for them in America's workshop, where they may produce wealth and the income necessary for a good life?"

Answering this in a renewed appeal to both business and the government for joint action, the federation said "this co-operative basis, as distinct from government control, cannot be too strongly emphasized."

NRA Kept Pace.
The survey asserted that under NRA re-employment kept pace with business recovery, but that since the supreme court had outlawed the recovery agency it had fallen far behind.

"By March, 1936," it said, "business had traveled 72 per cent of the way back to normal, but only 46 per cent of the depression unemployed had gone back to work."

"If re-employment had kept pace with business recovery, $120,000 of the depression unemployed would be back at work today; actually only 52,000 have found jobs in industry. That is, when all industries are counted."

On 2d Trip to U. S.

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Mackay radio reported tonight that Zeppelin Hindenburg was about 510 miles west of Land's End, Eng., or about 2,100 miles from New York, on its second scheduled flight to the United States.

At 9 p. m. Atlanta time, the dirigible's position was given as 48.18 degrees north latitude and 24.29 degrees west longitude.

At the present rate of speed the dirigible should be over New York Tuesday afternoon.

There are 39 passengers this trip, including seven Americans.

The stay in the United States will be brief this time. There is said to be a full passenger list for the return voyage, the start of which will be between 9 p. m. and midnight Wednesday, Atlanta time.

The dirigible will not occupy the Lakehurst hangar this time, but will be tied up to the field mooring mast at the naval air station. The public will be admitted to the field, within sight of the ship, but will not be permitted to board the Hindenburg or inspect her at close range.

Their flight to Palawan necessitated a sea journey of about 40 miles to the southeast. Culion island is about 200 miles south and slightly east of Manila. It is roughly 25 miles long and 10 miles wide.

These 2 Measures Hold

Before G. O. P. Convenes.
Ickes To Testify Today.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP) With sentiment in the senate finance committee veering back toward stiffer taxes on undistributed corporation profits, administration leaders tonight expected to negotiate a compromise tomorrow on the tax bill—the most serious threat to early congressional adjournment.

Confusion and strife surrounding the relief bill, another vital pre-adjournment measure, also was expected to be cleared up within the next day or two.

Developments this week on these two bills, leaders said, would largely tell the story of whether congress will be able to adjourn before the republican convention three weeks hence.

Tax Bill Votes Today.
A series of rapid votes in the finance committee tomorrow may break the deadlock over the tax bill. Treasury statisticians spent the week-end working up estimates on the various substitute proposals for the house bill in preparation for tomorrow's showdown.

Week-end expressions from committee members disclosed a flareup against the latest compromise proposal—an increase in individual income and corporation taxes with a light surtax on undistributed corporate earnings.

be able to make it hit the dust of French soil," he warned.

Serious problems confronting the new government include:

1. Protection of the franc against devaluation, since the people's front has pronounced itself for the gold standard.
2. The treasury's need to borrow at least 16,000,000 francs on a hesitant market.

3. Finding additional funds to carry out the leftist program of public works to reduce employment and restoration of full pensions and salaries to veterans and civil servants affected by Laval's economies.

4. The danger of war in the diplomatic snarl growing out of rearmament Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland and Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia.

5. The possibility of disorders if the leftists carry out their program of disarming and dissolving such so-called fascist troops as De La Rocque's Croix De Feu.

In the diversity of political shades in the new chamber's left wing lies the danger of disintegration for the people's front when it gets to a vote on specific issues. The right wing is acknowledged to be equally as divided.

The communists, while refusing to participate in the cabinet, have promised their support. With their 82 votes, including those of 10 dissident communists, the government is expected to have a majority of at least 320 in a chamber of 618 deputies. The most optimistic leftist estimates put the majority at 375.

A majority of 320 must include the 37 dissident socialists and at least 55 of the 116 radical-socialists.

WORLD WAR CHIEF OF CODESTERS DIES

Col. Fabyan Trained Army Cryptographers at Own Expense.

GENEVA, Ill., May 17.—(UP)—Colonel George Fabyan, 68, one of the nation's leading acoustics experts and recognized as the "brains" of the U. S. army's cryptography division during the World War, died today at his estate three miles south of here.

During the war he offered the use of his extensive estate, Riverbank Villa, to the government and trained 88 officers in deciphering messages. This group, trained at Fabyan's expense, formed the nucleus of the cryptography branch of the army intelligence department.

A section of the estate was used as a training camp for recruits and Fabyan permitted trenches to be dug over much of the splendidly kept grounds, located on the banks of the Fox river.

In addition to his military activities, Fabyan conducted much research in the field of acoustics. He pioneered in many developments in the science of sound in his private laboratory. With his staff he contributed much valuable information from research in radio, building acoustics and hearing aids for the deaf.

Fabyan and his wife, whom he married in 1887, experimented widely in breeding livestock and blooded dogs. They also conducted a zoo for many years.

Fabyan was born in Boston and moved to Chicago in 1883. In 1903 he retired to his estate where he had lived since.

Burial will be in Boston, according to Mrs. Fabyan.

WEEK-END AUTO TOLL IS AT LEAST 73 LIVES

7 Men and Boys Killed in Ohio as Car Hurtles Into Train.

By the Associated Press.

Seven men and boys died in one crash during a week-end in which at least 73 persons were killed in automobile accidents throughout the nation.

Of the seven killed near Youngstown, Ohio, when an auto crashed into the side of a freight train, four were killed instantly while the others died in a hospital.

The victims, ranging in age from 10 to 29, were returning from a wedding.

A woman and two men were burned to death in Philadelphia when a truck police said was laden with liquor burst into flames after a series of collisions with a parked sedan, a taxicab, a fire plug and a trolley pole. The passengers were trapped in the truck's steel cab.

Three St. Louis judges, who handle 50,000 traffic cases annually, suggested Sunday that "downright discourtesy" was the chief cause of the nation's highway accident toll.

Ohio with 18 and California with seven led the states in fatalities.

Deaths by states: Arkansas, 2; California, 6; Connecticut, 1; Delaware, 1; Georgia, 3; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 5; Indiana, 3; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 1; Massachusetts, 4; Michigan, 3; Missouri, 2; New Jersey, 3; New York, 1; Oklahoma, 3; Ohio, 7; Pennsylvania, 3; Tennessee, 3; Washington, 2; Wisconsin, 3.

CAROLAN KILLED IN FREAK ACCIDENT

WARSAW, N. C., May 17.—(P)—T. E. Long, 25-year-old electrician of Raleigh, was killed this morning when an automobile left a highway, struck two telephone poles, turned over seven times and came to rest on a railroad crossing.

The four other occupants, all young men of Raleigh, were injured. State Highway Patrolman D. O. Pearce, quoted eyewitnesses as saying the vehicle ran off a soft shoulder of the road. Pearce said the driver would be charged with reckless operation of an automobile "and probably with manslaughter."

estimate at "close to $6,000,000,000." Chairman Fletcher, of the republican national committee, declared government funds were used for "a democratic publicity campaign of unprecedented magnitude, made possible only by the use of public money fiished from the pockets of the poor and paid for by the taxpayer."

The American Liberty League announced each of its members is being urged to vote in the coming election and get as many promises to vote by others as possible. The League said that "suggestions for making effective" this mobilization of ballots would be issued later, but that the promises to vote need not be requested for any particular party or candidate.

10 Billion Difference.

Attacking first the President's statement the national income this year would be $30,000,000,000 more than in 1932, Hastings said that Eccles had placed the figure at $20,000,000,000. He added:

"This difference between Mr. Eccles and the President is not small. It amounts to $80 per capita, based upon a population of 125,000,000 people. 'How can the people forget, excuse, or forgive a President who apparently undertakes to deceive them in any such manner as this?'"

The things next attacked a portion of the President's New York speech in which the chief executive said that "reduction of costs of manufacture does not mean more purchasing power and more goods consumed."

The Delaware senator said Mr. Roosevelt had a misconception of "purchasing power" and added this and other statements of economic theory he quoted from the speech were not "supported by the facts." He added:

"One does not have to be an economist to discover how little the President knows of the functioning of our industrial system. One is not surprised, therefore, that the President should be led astray by such people as Tugwell and other economic quacks. 'Clean Our House.'"

"If the President should turn his wrath from the industrial autocrats and clean his own administration of some of these overprivileged theorists and spendthrifts that now surround him, the people of the country would have greater confidence in him and in his administration."

"If he would turn his attention from the price level, which seems to have hypnotized him, and, instead of harassing industry and giving it an occasional breathing spell, he would sincerely give it the signal to 'go' he could still in the remaining months of his administration, which is left to him, make a contribution to American welfare."

London To Speak.

In the political arena as a whole, there was speculation as to how much the week ahead would clarify the race for the republican presidential nomination. Governor Alf M. Landon will make a nationally broadcast speech tomorrow night at Attica, Kan. On Tuesday, a test of republican voters' preference for Landon or Senator Borah will be provided in the New Jersey primaries. Neither has formally entered, but supporters of both have placed their names in the preferential lists. Landon has the backing of the New Jersey republican state organization.

GEORGIA RAIL AGENT KILLED AT SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 17.—(P)—Alfred P. McPeters, passenger agent for the Central of Georgia Railway and Ocean Steamship Company at Savannah, was killed this morning in a fall from a balcony at his home. He was 48 years old and a native of Pulaski, Tennessee.

According to the family, McPeters had gone up to the attic, where it was cooler, to read the morning paper. He went out on a little balcony and the railing gave way and he fell to the ground. In an effort to catch the tin gutter in the downward flight McPeters' arm was almost cut off.

POLICE IN EIGHT STATES SEEK MYSTERY PLANE

New York Officer Almost Dragged Into Air in Arrest Effort.

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Police in eight states tonight were asked to watch for a mystery plane, believed to be one used in Canadian border smuggling, after it nearly dragged a policeman into the air when he sought to question its pilot.

Otto Kafka, New York aerial policeman, was at Holmes airport on his holiday when the plane landed and attracted his attention by taxiing back and forth at one end of the field instead of approaching a hangar.

Thumbing his notebook, Kafka recalled a warning to watch for a Canadian cabin plane "believed to be operating a smuggling racket between a field somewhere near Glen Falls, N. Y., or Saratoga, and a point in Canada." The description tallied.

Policeman Holds On.

He ran across the field, the plane taxiing away from him. He seized a door handle as the plane turned, he said, and the pilot struck at him through an open window. With Kafka hanging on, the craft surged forward in a take-off run.

Kafka let go just before it left the ground, the impetus throwing him in a double somersault. Airport officials and mechanics found him only half conscious. Private pilots who saw the incident soon were in the air in pursuit, but the strange plane outdistanced them and headed north.

Field attendants recalled, after the excitement, that a taxi had rolled up to the hangars shortly before the strange plane came down. It left without leaving or taking a passenger, they said, when the plane stayed away from that part of the field.

A physician treated Kafka for lacerations.

The mystery plane was of a two-seater type used in the early days of mail flying.

Ace of the city's flying police contingent, Kafka said the pilot struck at him when he ordered him to get out and show the plane's papers and its pilot's license.

Kafka and a fellow officer won praise in April, 1933, when they landed their plane on the water off Beach Haven to pick up five members of the crew of a plane that had crashed while searching for survivors of the fallen dirigible Akron.

In 1931 Kafka and another officer saved a woman from drowning off Coney Island by swooping down just as she was about to go under.

BISHOPS CONSECRATED BY METHODIST CHURCH

Quadrennial Conference
Holds Impressive Ceremony at Columbus, Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 17.—(AP)—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church consecrated four newly elected bishops in an impressive ceremony today and elevated them to seats on the board of bishops.

They were Wilbur E. Hammaker, for 27 years pastor of a Youngstown, Ohio, church; Charles W. Flint, chancellor of Syracuse (N. Y.) University; G. Bromley Oxnam, president of DePaul University of Greenfield, Ind.; and Alexander P. Shaw, of New Orleans, negro successor to Bishop Matthew W. Clair, of Covington, Ky.

At the same time the conference consecrated Missionary Bishop John M. Springer, of Elizabethville, Belgian Congo, elected to serve in Africa, and Central Conference Bishop Roberto Elphick, of Santiago, Chile, chosen several months ago to represent the South American central conference.

The committee on episcopacy was expected to make its recommendation on an assignment of all bishops for the next four years at Monday's conference session.

Bishop Leonard Presides.

Bishop Andia W. Leonard, of Pittsburgh, was in charge of the service by which the six Methodist leaders were consecrated.

Senior Bishop John L. Nuelson, of Zurich, Switzerland, conducted the ordination of the bishops-elect in the colorful ceremony.

Each of the six candidates for consecration was presented by two churchmen and consecrated in the service by two bishops.

With Bishop Hammaker were Dr. Charles B. Ketcham and Wilbur Stanley Smith, of Warren, Ohio, and Bishops Edwin H. Hughes, of Washington, and Francis J. McConnell, of New York.

Dr. W. A. C. Hughes, of Philadelphia, Dr. Willis J. King, of Dallas, Texas, and Bishops Eben S. Johnson, of Cape Town, South Africa, and Ernest L. Waldorf, of Chicago, accompanied Bishop Shaw.

Dr. Edmund J. Kulp, of St. Louis; Dr. Henri I. James, of New York; and Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, of Philadelphia, and Charles W. Flint, of Boston, were the attendees for Missionary Bishop Springer.

Central Conference Bishop Elphick was consecrated by Bishops George A. Miller, of Ancon, Canal Zone, and Juan E. Gattinoni, of Buenos Aires, and presented by Daniel E. Hall, of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Moises Torregrossa, of Concepcion, Chile.

Chosen for Life.

Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church are elected for life, subject only to being placed on the retired list at the general conference nearest their seventy-second birthday.

With the accession of the four new bishops to places on the board, seven general superintendents, as the bishops are called in the church, were retired, five because of the age limit, and two because of health.

Bishop Welch, of Shanghai; Bishop Robinson, of Delhi; Bishop Johnson, of Cape Town; Bishop Frederick T. Keeney, of Atlanta, Ga.; Bishop Miller, of Ancon, and Bishop Clair, of Covington, Ky.

Delegates prepared to hold three business sessions of the conference tomorrow in an effort to adjourn by noon Tuesday.

RAIL RECORD MADE.

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—The Chicago & Northwestern Union Pacific's new streamlined train, City of Los Angeles, rolled into Chicago on time today at the end of its first trip cutting 20 hours from previous schedules between this city and California.

Finds Too Much of Second Hand in Religion

REV. W. T. HUNNICUTT.

Consciousness of God Is Termed Greatest Need of Present World

Editor's Note: This is the 68th in a series of articles dealing with Atlanta pastors and their services. Additional articles will appear on succeeding Mondays.

The world's greatest need today is the consciousness of God, the Rev. W. T. Hunnicutt, pastor of the Martha Brown Memorial Methodist church, said yesterday in his sermon, based on the text, "History unto me the joy of Thy Salvation; and uphold me with Thy free spirit. Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto Thee."

"These words are the cry of a soul that has missed the way. Sin is missing the mark. Sin has broken union with God, scattered the fires from the altar of the soul and left him in darkness. The world's greatest need today is a consciousness of God. The hunger of the soul for God is the chief cause of all the restlessness and discontent we see around us. Until we feel our need of God and become conscious of His presence, our efforts to save the world will be only a program, for unless we feel our need of God we cannot see the sinners' needs. If we carry out the program of Christ and evangelize the world, we must first see the world's need of salvation and have something to offer men that is real.

"We cannot save the world and be like it. The church must be different from the world. To put it differently we must be Christians. Three things are involved in being a Christian. First, believe in a savior. By this I do not mean denominational creeds. By creed I mean belief in the things

Automobile Merrymakers Ride Roughshod on Streets at Night

Out for a good time . . . on wheels. Yes, indeed, and they enjoy them. Yes, indeed, those folks who make merry in automobiles.

And a not uncommon sight, or sound, those cars in which four or five persons are crowded in the front seat of a vehicle built for three. You hear them laughing and singing, with that devil-may-care spirit, that we should-worry attitude.

After all, why not? Nobody seems to care, nobody seems to interfere. Police are nowhere in sight, so why not ride along happily, recklessly, dangerously?

Law of Consequences.

It's all in fun, of course. Nobody interferes—until the law of consequences starts to work and not the law of fun. When the law of consequences really gets going, watch out, you drivers who don't care, you drivers and passengers bent on having a good time on wheels.

Pointing this out today, the Safety Council of the Constitution, sponsors of a safe-driving, safe-walking campaign in Atlanta and surrounding territory, invite you merely to look about as you yourself, drive along the streets and highways these pleasant spring nights.

Just look about and observe. There goes a roadster, just ambling along, as though the driver were seated in a rocking chair at home. The machine was built to hold three persons in the front seat and two in the rumble.

But there are four persons in the front seat and four in the rumble, all laughing and making merry. (Perhaps they're a bottle or two with them.)

Ain't No Common Sense.

Keep your eyes on that car. Notice how the driver disregards other cars. Now watch him turn around a corner, without any regard for safe

MORE JOBS OPEN TO COLLEGE MEN

U. S. Commissioner Reports
Great Improvement Over
'32 and '33.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Better opportunities for 137,000 young men and women graduating from college next month were forecast today by John W. Studebaker, United States education commissioner.

He reported there was a "marked improvement in opportunities for college graduates over conditions three or four years ago," but at the same time he urged a greater emphasis be placed on practical school training.

Although reviving business conditions are reflected in better chances for jobs for both liberal and professional students, he said much remained to be done to adopt school courses to changed conditions.

"One of the chief opportunities we have both to fit American youth for their future work and keep them off the labor market," Studebaker said, "is through junior colleges."

"There is just as much reason why schools should train boys to be efficient plumbers or bricklayers as to offer them courses in medicine, law, or the other professions."

SCHOOL FOR CRIMINALS FOUND AT BUDAPEST

BUDAPEST, May 17.—(UP)—A school for thieves and burglars under the professorship of Michael Marchik, was revealed to police today when 14 boys, ranging from 10 to 15, confessed that they were students.

TOWNSENDITES FINISH TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Petition of 10,581,000 Signatures Will Be Presented to House Body.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—The Townsend old-age pension plan caravan, which left Los Angeles 13 days ago with three truck loads of petitions, completed its transcontinental journey today, halting at noon before the Grant memorial at the foot of Capitol Hill.

It was met by four members of congress headed by Representative Tolman, democrat, California, a Townsend supporter.

"We have traveled 3,000 miles and endured hardships to bring to you the signatures of 10,581,000 persons who insist that the Townsend plan be enacted into law," Miss Lois Jean Johnson, leader of the Townsend youth movement in San Diego, told Tolman.

"I think this is wonderful," said Tolman, who was the only member present of the house committee which is investigating the Townsend organization. "I will present the petitions to our committee when it convenes on Tuesday."

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the movement, did not arrive in Washington from California in time for the presentation of the documents. He has been summoned to testify Tuesday at the resumption of committee hearings.

The congressmen with Tolman who turned out to welcome the caravan included Representatives White, democrat, Idaho; Smith, democrat, Washington, and Kramer, democrat, California.

Ralph Lepine, of Los Angeles, leader of the group of 43 which crossed the country in 18 automobiles, reported the party had come safely through three sandstorms and two heavy rainstorms, that the caravan had been escorted from the time it left California by official police, patrols, and that once they had driven 973 miles without stopping to sleep.

"We had a fine trip," Lepine said, "but I didn't see a state on the whole way that could compare with California."

In California, you should see how we have the roads marked, telling you how far it is to the next place and how to get there. There isn't a state in the Union with its roads marked as well as California."

The caravan included Colonel J. W. Bridges, director of the Houston (Texas) Townsend district.

REPUBLICANS SEEK ADVICE OF LOWDEN

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, veteran student of farm problems, was named today by western headquarters of the republican national committee as one of the carpenters who will shape the farm plank in the party platform at Cleveland next month.

Lowden's "advice and counsel" on agricultural issues have "been of great assistance to the republican leaders" and his "keen judgment" in the will undoubtedly be reflected in the platform, Harrison E. Spangler, division chairman, said in a statement.

"The republican convention, I am sure, will be more than eager to have his views before it in its deliberations," the chairman added.

FIRST NOVEL WINS ATLANTIC'S PRIZE

Small Town English Teacher
Awarded $10,000 for
'I Am the Fox.'

BOSTON, May 17.—(AP)—The Atlantic Monthly Press announced tonight its award of the Atlantic novel prize of $10,000 to Mrs. Winifred Mayne Van Etten, 34-year-old English teacher of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, for her first novel, "I Am the Fox."

A first novel, "I Am the Fox" is described by the press and its affiliated publishing house, Little, Brown & Company, as "modern in its design, and swift and illuminating in its characterization, of a girl brought up in Iowa of the 20th century."

The book will appear in August.

NEW STREAMLINE TRAIN CHRISTENED AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Miss Audrey Louise Jones, 14, of Houston, Texas, granddaughter of Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, christened the Illinois Central railroad's new streamlined train, "The Green Diamond," today.

Miss Jones smashed a bottle of champagne over the locomotive's nose and sent the train off on its first regular run to St. Louis.

Jones was a proud watcher, as were Audrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Telford Jones, of Houston.

The "Green Diamond" left Chicago 15 minutes ahead of schedule—traveling along at 60 miles an hour. The streamliner makes the Chicago-St. Louis run in 4 hours 55 minutes.

LAWRENCE ADDRESSES BAPTIST CONVENTION

Extension of Home Mission Work Is Urged by Atlanta.

By JOE BURTON.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 17.—After attending morning services in St. Louis churches where Baptist leaders preached, messengers to the Southern Baptist Convention returned to the municipal auditorium tonight to hear addresses by Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Atlanta, executive secretary of the Home Mission Board, and Dr. C. E. Madry, Richmond, executive secretary of the Foreign Mission Board. The largest audience at any session of the convention heard the mission addresses as 9,000 people nearly filled the tremendous auditorium.

The annual session will adjourn at noon tomorrow, and messengers of the Southern Baptist Convention will join in a fellowship program Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday.

Dr. Ellis A. Fuller and Dr. Ryland Knight, both of Atlanta, are to speak on the fellowship program. The Northern Baptist Convention will begin its annual session Wednesday. "If we win for Christ in lands afar," said Dr. Lawrence tonight, "we must win in the homeland. We must put behind our foreign missionaries the impact of a national life spirit through and through with the spirit of Christ."

The mission executive pointed out that Christianity in America must conquer in the fields of intellect, economics and racial relationships. "We cannot go on in the old economic order," he stated "for it will create a small rich class, pauperize the masses, and lead to revolution. Intelligent men will not again be made paupers."

"Only the religion of Christ," continued Dr. Lawrence, "will solve our problems and build a Christ-like social order."

The women's quartet of Bessie Tift College, Forsyth, Georgia, sang on tonight's program.

Autoist Badly Beaten After Near Accident

A motorist was stabbed with a knife on the head with a wrench wielded by a woman in an attack after his car nearly side-swiped the machine in which his assailants were riding on Marietta street, near Earl street, at about 8:15 o'clock last night. His assailants escaped.

The motorist, Richard B. Norris, 48, of 785 Lee street, was admitted to Grady hospital in serious condition. He suffered stab wounds of the legs and chest, in addition to head injuries.

He told police he was driving along Marietta street when his car narrowly missed striking a machine in which two men and two women were riding. When he halted his car in front of a restaurant a block away, the other car drove up. The attack followed.

A passing motorist took him to the hospital.

RESERVE BANK BOARD REPORTS GOLD INFLOW

France Diverts Shipments From England to United States.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(P)—The Federal Reserve Board reported tonight that the inward flow of gold had been resumed, with net imports since mid-April through May 8 amounting to $150,000,000.

The board said $125,000,000 came from France which, until recently, had been transferring its funds to England.

The present trend reverses an earlier outward movement which, the board said, was mainly due to a reduction in the volume of European short term balances held in the American market.

"Gold movements to this country, which had practically ceased by the beginning of this year," the board said, "were resumed on a considerable scale in the last week of April."

"From April 24 to May 8, about $125,000,000 of gold was engaged for shipment for France to the United States. Earlier in the year an outward movement of gold occurred, and for the three and a half months as a whole to the middle of April gold imports were smaller than any similar period since January, 1934."

"This was mainly due to a reduction in the volume of European short-term balances held in this market. Foreign purchases of American securities continued on substantially the same scale as in the latter half of 1935."

"The reduction in European short-term balances held in this country appears in its earliest stages to have reflected in part the gradual subsidence of the war fears that had initiated the transfer of British and other balances to this market in September and October, and in part the passing of the acute fiscal and political issues in France which had come to a crisis in November."

Sent to England.

"When capital again began to leave France in the latter part of January, it was transferred to England rather than to the United States."

"The anticipated effect on the budget of legislation for adjusted service compensation and of the court decision which invalidated taxes imposed in connection with the agricultural adjustment program, together with the extension of the President's power to devalue the dollar, created some uncertainty abroad as to the course of American monetary policy, and the slow reduction of European balances in this country continued."

The board added that by the end of March foreign uncertainty in regard to American monetary policy, and the slow reduction of European balances in this country continued."

BOLIVIAN PRESIDENT IS FORCED TO RESIGN

This continued "state of war" and the national socialist, composed of war veterans and students, had selected Colonel David Toro, war hero now in the Chaco, as their presidential candidate in elections scheduled for May 31.

Colonel Toro Called.

The leaders of the coup sent an urgent message to Colonel Toro to return to join the provisional junta, which political observers expected would consist of Toro, Busch, Enrique Baldivieso, minister of education in the Tejada Sorzano cabinet, and Bautista Saavedra, leader of the republican socialist party.

Such a combination, it was pointed out, would indicate a trend toward a coalition military and civilian government.

The old Bolivian parties—the republican and the liberal—have lost influence in post-war days. Former President Daniel Salamanca, from whom Tejada Sorzano seized the government while he was away at the front, headed the republican party.

The political situation has been so uncertain owing to the virtual collapse of the old parties that Tejada Sorzano recently asserted "a political strike" was virtually in effect. His term originally was to have expired in 1935 but was extended to August of this year.

The long-drawn-out Chaco war brought misery and discontent to Bolivia, like Paraguay.

But unlike the case of Ayala, the ousted Paraguayan president, who is still held a prisoner, the Bolivian executive was forced out quietly.

He had projected a series of public works to aid post-war reconstruction, but was unable to harmonize the political parties.

The manifesto issued by Colonel Busch, in announcing the creation of a new regime, said:

"The resignation of the president to the acting chief of general staff obliges the army to relinquish the aloofness toward politics which it has been observing until the present time, and to attend to reconstruction of the country at a moment of intense public agitation, lack of confidence, financial and economic exhaustion and other grave dangers which threaten national ruin."

"The Chaco campaign brought to light the shakiness of the Bolivian state and revealed to us all, soldiers and civilians, how defective has been our institutional organization when most of the humble were required to give their services and sacrifices on the altar of the fatherland while others—powerful but very few in number—concentrated in their hands the great fortunes formed by exploiting the natural riches of our territory."

"Nothing in this irritating condition of inequality, however, has nullified the sacrifice of thousands of men who remained under arms in the Chaco, for the sacrifice created in the people a vehement desire to mend the errors of our constitution and organize a new fatherland upon bases of social justice, equity and equality more in accord with the times in which we are living."

'TALKING' BOOKS ORDER WILL BENEFIT BLIND

factured by 300 Works Progress Administration employees in New York City. They are small, fit into a black case and weigh only 24 pounds.

Phonograph already built are electrically-operated. WPA administrator Harry L. Hopkins plans, however, to make perhaps 1,000 operated by spring motors for rural sections where no energy is available.

The chief advantage of the "talking books" according to R. B. Irwin, of the blind foundation, is that they require no ability to operate. The Braille system, he explained, is too difficult for many to master.

Free of Charge.

In addition, the machines will be distributed free of charge. Foundation statistics showed this was necessary because most sightless persons are poor.

"The greatest cause of blindness is poverty," Irwin said. "Men and women are blind because they had no money for treatment at a critical time. Most of them become afflicted after 50."

Two thousand of the machines already are in use, supplied by the library of Congress. In addition, congress appropriates $75,000 a year for records.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS MEET AT JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 17.—(AP)—Florida Knights of Columbus opened a three-day state convention here today with a pontifical high mass celebrated by Bishop Patrick Barry, of St. Augustine.

Teams from the two Jacksonville councils and the St. Augustine council were assisted by a special team from Charleston, S. C., in conferring major degrees at the Columbian Club this afternoon.

Business sessions of the state convention will be held tomorrow and Tuesday at Jacksonville Beach.

SENATE TAX GROUP REVIVES FIRST PLAN

It is doubtful the finance committee would approve a measure retaining the present flat corporate income tax, with a surtax on undistributed profits, and imposing the normal income tax on dividends.

There appeared to be no sentiment for the bill passed by the house levying graduated rates up to 42 1/2 per cent against the net income of corporations, depending upon how much they distributed.

Under the latest proposal for a compromise, the normal individual income tax would be raised from 4 to 5 per cent; corporations would pay a flat 18 per cent tax on net income, with a surtax of 7 per cent on that part undistributed; and all dividends would be subject to the normal income tax.

This plan seemed to have the backing of a majority of the committee last week, but within the past day or two several committee members have turned back toward an earlier compromise plan under which corporations would pay a flat tax of 15 or 16 per cent, with a surtax ranging up to perhaps 40 per cent. This would eliminate the raise in personal income tax rates.

Issues to Testify.

While the finance committee struggles with the tax problem, the senate appropriations committee probably will hear the belated testimony of Secretary Ickes on the relief bill. Ickes was scheduled to appear Friday, but cancelled his appearance.

Ickes is the center of a sharp dispute over the relief bill. Senator Hayden, democrat, Arizona, has offered an amendment to appropriate $700,000,000 for the secretary's Public Works Administration in addition to the $1,425,000,000 for Harry L. Hopkins' Works Progress Administration.

Various alternatives have been proposed, including one that Ickes' present revolving fund of about $250,000,000 be reappropriated as a fund for grants to states for public works projects.

President Roosevelt tried to smooth the troubled waters last week with an announcement PWA and the settlement administration would be continued with money from WPA's $1,425,000,000.

This drew attacks from republicans on the senate committee. Senator Steiwer, of Oregon, protested the President would have no authority to use this fund for PWA. He said if the President had such authority, he might also be able to continue the Passamaquoddy tide harnessing project and the Florida ship canal.

"I'd like to know," Steiwer said today, "whether we are really going to spend this money for war relief or whether the administration is asserting the right to make important deviations from it for the construction of projects congress has never considered or rejected."

Steiwer and other republican members of the committee were talking of calling Comptroller General McCarl for an interpretation of the relief bill as passed by the house.

With the relief and tax bills approaching the senate floor, leaders pushed ahead with other legislation to clear the way for adjournment. The 1936 London naval treaty will be taken up by the senate tomorrow, with the omnibus flood control bill to follow it, probably on Tuesday.

VIOLENCE OVER INDIA IS FEARED BY GANDHI

litical strength, for Gandhi has as many ardent disciples now as the young pandit.

But Nehru has made it clear, through his presidential address at the congress, he pins his faith in the explosive qualities of a well-organized peasantry and labor trade unions. To Gandhi this means a period which might easily be marked by unprecedented bloodshed, and the consequent reintroduction of stern repressive measures by the British government.

"Still, in two or three years time," said the Mahatma, "this excitable and enthusiastic young leader will return to me and once again invite me to lead India to freedom."

"Facing Setback."

"He is facing a rude setback by persisting in his present policy; but when he realizes his mistake, he will find me not only willing to help him but ready with a new program which will startle Britain even more than did my civil disobedience campaign."

Some of the fundamental principles of the congress, it is pointed out, have now been jettisoned. The manual labor qualification for membership, which Gandhi regarded as the foundation stone of his political organization, has been abandoned.

Outwardly the government of India has welcomed this new direction of nationalist policy and program, since it makes possible a fight against an enemy whose methods and reserves are understood. Inwardly, the government is regarded as fearful of the reaction of such a policy, in that it may drive India back into the arms of Gandhi with more enthusiasm than in the past.

Meanwhile the Gandhi site quietly and plots for the future. He thinks he will have to wait only a year; but if the waiting period extends to two or even three years he will not worry.

"India loves me," explained the Mahatma. "India trusts me. India needs me. I feel, therefore, that my life mission is not yet ended. I still hope to see India free from the domination of the foreigner."

The victims, trapped in a corner of the 150-foot square structure by blazing artificial grass, shrubs, trees and stuffed animals, were Al Miller, 28-year-old automobile plant worker; his wife, Wanda, 25, and Wallace Zonkowski, 25-year-old factory worker.

Their bodies were buried in embers as the tin roof of the building collapsed. Four other persons, including Zonkowski's widow and a policeman who sought to aid the victims, also were burned.

Dr. Charles L. Rivard, Macomb county coroner, Sheriff George Smith and Assistant Prosecutor Vincent L. Fitzgerald investigated to determine how the flames started.

Possibility that a carelessly tossed cigarette or defective wiring ignited the flimsy decorations of the "jungle" was suggested by Max Kerner, secretary-treasurer of the park company operating the resort in East Detroit.

He said numerous signs and a guard stationed at the door warned thrill-seekers entering the concession against smoking.

Harry Stahl, owner of the "jungle," said it was supposed to be fireproof and had been inspected by fire underwriters.

POPE WILL INAUGURATE CONGREGATIONSPALACE

VATICAN CITY, May 17.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI will inaugurate the Vatican next Saturday to inaugurate in Rome the largest palace ever built by a pope.

This is the palace of the congregations, administrative bodies of the church. It is in the Trastevere quarters of Rome, one of the poorest sections of the city.

The pontiff's short trip to Trastevere will be the first time he has left the Vatican to go to Rome proper since October, 1933, when he visited the Church of St. Mary Major.

He passed through Rome last summer, of course, and the summer before, on his way to the papal summer villa of Castel Gandolfo.

LATE STATE CAMPAIGN FORCED BY TALMADGE

cessful drive he directed in Mr. Roosevelt's behalf in Georgia. This resolution was sponsored at the meeting by Senator Joseph Bergen, of Buena Vista.

Larsen to Return.

Judge Larsen thus far has only announced that he will be a candidate for the governorship. This announcement came from Washington and in it he said that he would make public his platform and otherwise discuss the issues of the campaign upon his return to Georgia this week.

There has been no definite announcement of the opening date of the former congressman's speaking campaign but it is understood that it will be just after the middle of June.

Meanwhile there continues talk of other anti-Talmadge candidates, chiefly centering about Abit Nix, of Athens, and Solicitor General W. Y. Atkinson, of Newnan. Neither of these prospective candidates have made known their intentions.

The "Wetner movement" thus far has not developed a candidate but those working with former Chancellor Philip Wetner, of the University System, have a "convention" scheduled for Macon next month at which they will decide what to do.

Talmadge Activity.

While the activity is chiefly coming from the Talmadge opponents, the Governor and his friends are not idle. The Governor in radio speeches and public statements is actively campaigning for his re-election, although the Talmadge ticket has not yet been revealed. It may find Talmadge himself pitted against Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., or seeking a third term as governor and it may find Hugh Howell or Senate President Charles D. Redwine seeking the governorship under the Talmadge banner.

Speaker Rivers left Atlanta yesterday for his home in south Georgia and is not expected to open headquarters here for several weeks. For some time he has been campaigning for old age pensions and is expected to continue that course until the speaking campaign gets under way.

A commission began studying plans to reduce the size of the Culion colony, the largest of its kind in the world.

Murphy, now en route to the United States to discuss a Philippine-American trade conference, was represented as favoring less drastic restriction of the lepers "provided such a plan does not create a situation dangerous to public health."

and Morgan later came to Washington and confirmed it. Then began an attempt by Mr. Roosevelt, Senator George W. Norris, republican, Nebraska; George Fort Milton, publisher of the Chattanooga News and others to placate the officials of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

But Morgan remained adamant. He enumerated several objections to Lillenthal's activities and clung to his ultimatum. President Roosevelt discussed the situation with Governor Philip La Follette, of Wisconsin, and later decided to renominate Lillenthal.

Attitude Unknown.

Officials said tonight that Lillenthal did not know until a few days ago of Morgan's attitude. They have differed on matters of policy, it was learned, with Morgan leaning toward a greater degree of co-operation with public utilities than that favored by his younger associate. However, Morgan has insisted throughout that these differences were of minor importance.

Nevertheless, the President took the position that failure to renominate Lillenthal would be regarded as a victory for the office, a viewpoint sustained by private expressions of congressional foes of TVA who are chortling over the present internal strife.

Lillenthal's name was to have come before the senate last Saturday. Senator Norris was authorized by the senate agriculture committee to report the nomination favorably. At the last minute, however, Mr. Roosevelt decided to make a last personal appeal to Morgan to reconsider his decision. This appeal went forward by mail over the week end.

The seriousness of the situation was emphasized by the fact that developments may make it impossible for the Authority to function temporarily. If Morgan carries out his threat to resign and Lillenthal's renomination is not confirmed immediately, the Authority would be left without a quorum.

Harcourt A. Morgan, the third member of the Authority who is in charge of agricultural and fertilizer development activities, is not involved in the discussion.

United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, seeking renomination, has republican organization support. Opposing him are C. Dan Coskey, Townsend plan advocate, an David J. Allen, who has advocated the principles of Father Charles E. Coughlin.

State Senator William H. Smathers, of Atlantic City, has democratic organization support for the United States senatorial nomination. He is opposed by former Assemblyman Theon McCampbell, of Monmouth county.

Voters also will nominate candidates for 14 congressional, 60 state assembly and seven senate seats.

NEW JERSEY TO HOLD PRIMARY TOMORROW

up with a slate of candidate in nearly every one of the 14 districts. Preference voting is not binding on the delegates.

Landon has made no personal fight for New Jersey's 32 convention votes, but Borah, in a ringing campaign address in Newark, center of North Jersey's highly industrialized area, warned that if the republican party "refuses to take hold of the question of monopoly, I promise to follow the issue and no party alignment will control me for a minute."

He would not state definitely whether he would leave the party if necessary. "To attain his purpose, but in answer to questions said, 'I only know I'll stick to the issues. I'll follow them where I can serve those issues the best and achieve best results.'"

Landon has the support of the republican state committee and nearly every organization leader in New Jersey. The state's committee selected the delegate-at-large; slate of Hoffman, Walter E. Edge, former ambassador to France, Edward D. Duffield and National Committee woman Edna B. Conklin.

Hoffman alone of the four candidates selected by the state committee has conducted a vigorous campaign, defending his reprieve of Hauptmann and personal investigation of the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Justice in Gore.

Fort charged the governor's activities in the case "dragged Jersey justice in the mire."

President Roosevelt is assured of New Jersey's 32 votes at the democratic convention since every district offered only a Roosevelt slate of delegates endorsed by Democratic Leader Frank Hague, mayor of Jersey City.

Thus the democratic preference slate holds little significance since only the name of Colonel Henry Breckinridge, of New York, friend of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, was entered. Some write in for Colonel Breckinridge was expected.

United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, seeking renomination, has republican organization support. Opposing him are C. Dan Coskey, Townsend plan advocate, an David J. Allen, who has advocated the principles of Father Charles E. Coughlin.

State Senator William H. Smathers, of Atlantic City, has democratic organization support for the United States senatorial nomination. He is opposed by former Assemblyman Theon McCampbell, of Monmouth county.

Detroit Amusement Park Fire.

DETROIT, May 17.—(AP)—The deaths of two men and a woman in flames that swept a dimly-lit "jungle" concession at an amusement park resulted in an official inquiry by Macomb county authorities today.

The victims, trapped in a corner of the 150-foot square structure by blazing artificial grass, shrubs, trees and stuffed animals, were Al Miller, 28-year-old automobile plant worker; his wife, Wanda, 25, and Wallace Zonkowski, 25-year-old factory worker.

NUMBER 304—A happy home life means as much to you as anything else. You will be happy without it. The indications are that you will have a home life which will collect quite a bit of property and many personal belongings. You should not acquire large property or non-income-producing property, is a source of constant irritation to you.

NUMBER 1218—In order to succeed you should develop the most positive side of your nature, that is, develop more aggressiveness, self-confidence and courage. By doing this you will be able to overcome the obstacles that seem to confront you, and be master of every situation in the end.

NUMBER 607—Due to your love of detail too much in the matter of marriage or you will be a success if you do not expect too much from the summer blanket and business contracts that you may enter into. Do not do any business with matters in the same way that you do, therefore always use care and discretion.

NUMBER 1008—The indications are that there is a possibility of inheritance that may create some litigation, but nothing serious. You have much intuition and should be governed by your first impression of both people and things.

Giantism, dwarfism, or other physical changes may result if the important little pituitary gland at the base of the brain becomes diseased or abnormal.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

(Posed by Ida Lupino)

A Wave Set Fluid That Will Glorify Your Tresses

By MIGNON.

A non-sticky fluid, containing vegetable oil and other ingredients beneficial to the hair and scalp—that's what I'm going to tell you about today.

It leaves the hair in a natural, soft condition, wavy and lustrous, no flakes, no odor.

Apply the wave set directly to the hair, thoroughly saturating it. Massage the scalp, then comb hair into finger wave position and set.

The treatment banishes dandruff and dry cuticle. Even the color seems more attractive, as the hair takes on a natural, healthy luster—and the highlights are accentuated. The first time I used it, there was a sheen and brilliance to my tresses that I hadn't seen there in a long time.

The drying period is cut down considerably. If you dislike sitting under a dryer as much as I do, this will be a point in favor of the new wave set.

In short, if you are looking for a wave lotion that is pleasant and easy to use, that is not sticky or gummy, and will not leave a sediment on the hair or scalp but that, on the other hand, will leave your crowning glory naturally soft and lustrous, you will inquire about this product.

If you wish to know name and where the above mentioned may be purchased, call MIGNON at The Constitution. Do not write unless you live outside the city, in which case, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NANCY PAGE

This Is the Way We Make the Bed

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Summer nights may be restless nights. When the temperature stays up the sleeper is apt to toss and turn in discomfort. In the winter the heavy comforters and the long blankets tend to hold the bedding in place even though the sleeper is restless. But in summer when the summer blanket and the sheet provide most of the covering it is easy to get the bed looking like a mare's nest.

To prevent this, it is wise to know how to make beds with the so-called hospital corner folding of the sheet. This neat box-like folding makes bedding stay put for hours at a time. The method of making this mitered corner folding is simple.

Start with the bottom sheet. Of course there is a mattress cover over the mattress and a mattress pad over that. Then lay the bottom sheet on. It is foolish to use sheets that are less than 108 inches long, torn measurement. This means they will measure less when hemmed are taken off, but the length is given as 108 inches.

Center the sheet on the mattress, having the same extra length at the top and bottom and the same extra width at the two sides. Tuck under the top and bottom on one side first, then step over to the other side, tuck the bed and do the same. Now comes the mitering.

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

THE WHITE HOUSE, Washington, Friday.—Last night we had the annual newspaper party. It was not as warm as we might have wished, but still, people wandered out on the porches and I walked out in the garden to get a view of the house, and it all looked gay and pleasant.

About halfway through the evening, the usher came to me and said that he had just had a telephone message from Eddie Peabody, who had arrived in Washington for a holiday and heard we were having a party. He offered to come down and entertain us as he did last year.

We accepted with great joy, and without rehearsal, Sidney and his orchestra joined in and played his accompaniment. He gave us a delightful 15-minute entertainment before supper.

This party, at which the Vice President and Mrs. Garner always receive with us, is a nice, informal party and I hope our guests enjoyed it as much as we did.

When we got upstairs I found one of our sons had come in for the night. These unexpected comings and goings are very pleasant and give me a chance to catch up with my family, even in conversations which take place in the middle of the night!

I was up early this morning to go to the station to meet a friend. I worked at my desk for part of the morning, had a press conference, and after the cabinet ladies, who were giving a picnic for the senate ladies with me, had arranged everything, I joined them in the garden.

We had a very pleasant, if somewhat more formal, meal than the word "picnic" usually implies, for we had tables all set and chairs to sit upon. But we were out-of-doors, and on a day like this when the sun gives just the right amount of warmth, I think everyone wants to be out.

Later, I went to see a friend in the hospital, returned to receive a group of high school girls from Briarcliff Manor, New York. At 4 o'clock the various women executives came to their garden party. At 5 the members of the American Federation of Arts came in, and during the afternoon several house guests arrived by motor and train from the south and the north, amongst them our daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donner Roosevelt, and our grandson, Bill.

The following presidents have served: Mrs. Norie Clower, 1933; Mrs. Annie Snell, 1934; Mrs. Daisy Irwin, 1935. Mrs. H. Grady Andrews is the present president.

Other patriotic organizations have been invited to the tea by the chairman, Mrs. Irwin, and a musical program will be presented by the entertainment chairman, Mrs. Ola Anderson.

Gladiolus Club Meets.

Featuring the May meeting of the Gladiolus Garden Club was the practical demonstration of conservation of vegetables and fruits from the home garden.

Mrs. John Russell introduced Mrs. M. G. Pepper, who was hostess and arranged the program. Mrs. Pepper read an interesting and instructive paper on the origin and progress of canning, showing its development in ways and equipment. She introduced W. E. Wahl, of Eau Claire, Wis., who gave an illustrated talk.

The club is sponsoring a conservation program, and this was the second meeting featuring this important topic.

Clayton-Goldwire.

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 16.—Of interest to hosts of friends is the marriage of Miss Blanche Bailey Clayton to James Ashley Goldwire, which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Matthew Carwell Jr., in Williams Heights. Rev. J. O. Taylor, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The nuptial music was played by Miss Chaille Miller.

The bride wore an iris colored crepe dress with a smart hat in matching shade and other accessories were white. Her bouquet was of tall-tan roses and valley lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Goldwire left for north Georgia and Tennessee and following their wedding trip they will be at home at 612 Tebeau street.

Wheel & Axle Alignment Co. Urges Summer Adjustments

NEEDS STRESSED
BY A. H. MURRELL

Spring Street Shop Ready To Correct Ills Which Make Driving Difficult.

The importance of wheel, chassis and axle alignment is not to be lightly considered, especially during the present warm months, declares A. H. Murrell, of the Wheel & Axle Alignment Company, said to be the city's first and foremost Bear System shop. "It is obvious," Mr. Murrell asserts, "that the crowded condition of streets and highways make positive steering a matter of utmost importance. This definitely cannot be achieved when any part of the automobile, whether it be motor truck or passenger car, is not in perfect alignment."

Mr. Murrell points to misalignment as among the chief contributing factors in the annually heavy traffic accident toll. Since he has dealt with these automotive frailties during much of his career in the automobile field, he is fully qualified to speak with authority in this respect. Both he and his partner, D. F. Treadwell, are avowed champions of safety, entirely aside from the fact their business, also, is the maintenance of safety.

There are many reasons, Mr. Murrell declares, why automobiles should be checked both frequently and thoroughly for alignment ailments. Among the foremost of these, he cites the perils of tire wear, economy in fuel consumption, loss of speed and efficiency and comfort in driving.

"During hot weather," he asserts, "tires suffer greater damage due to the heat of friction plus the heat of the road, and the rubber disintegrates more rapidly than at any other time of the year. This condition is accelerated by the least misalignment. The perfectly aligned car requires less gas and oil. It rolls more freely, since its speed is retarded by misalignment. Also, there is less fatigue on the driver if his car is in perfect condition."

The Wheel & Axle Alignment Company, whose large sunlit shop is situated at 581 Spring street, was founded August 1, 1930, by Mr. Murrell and Mr. Treadwell, the latter at that time constituting its shop staff in charge of a single axle pit. Such has been its success, and so widespread its patronage, that it now maintains three complete axle pits and a frame straightener, and employs four men constantly. It specializes in the nationally known Bear System, a highly specialized cold system treatment for the correction of misaligned wheels, axles and frames.

Mr. Murrell invites Atlanta motorists to avail themselves of the Wheel & Axle Alignment Company free inspection service and to acquaint themselves with its specialized alignment service.

'Round-the-Clock' Service Aids Customers of M. & M.

Users of Commercial Refrigeration Find Warehouse Prepared To Aid in Preventing Losses.

The value and desirability of "round-the-clock" service in the field of commercial refrigeration, declares Henry W. Gullatt, president of the M. & M. Warehouse Co., are visibly reflected in the steadily increasing patronage of his establishment, which long has catered especially to this business.

"Breakdown or failure of commercial refrigeration equipment," Mr. Gullatt asserts, "frequently may result in heavy loss to the owner, and replenishment of refrigerants must be effected both speedily and efficiently. This is the service we seek to render to our clients."

It is this desire to render a service as complete as possible, he points out, which caused the M. & M. Warehouse, first, to inaugurate a 24-hour-a-day, 7-day-a-week call service to commercial refrigerant users. Secondly, to further round out its service, the company, it is asserted, is the only agency of its kind in the state to carry more than one of the six.

During the week just closed, Mr. Gullatt relates, the M. & M. Warehouse was called upon on four of seven nights to render "after hours" refrigerant service, and during the previous week such service was sought on five out of seven nights. In every case, he points out, it was imperative that the situation be given immediate attention in order to prevent losses, and likewise, in each case, the expert and unfailing prompt service of the M. & M. refrigerant specialists solved the problem.

Users of commercial refrigeration, not already familiar with the M. & M. Warehouse Company's highly specialized service, are invited by Mr. Gullatt to either visit the offices at 29 Haynes street, N. W., or to communicate with him or his associates, and to avail themselves of this day and night aid to their own business.

In line with the refrigeration service, the M. & M. Warehouse Co. serves as a storage point for several of the better known refrigerators, thus giving to both local and out-of-town retailers convenient, time-saving pickup facilities. Thus, an ice manufacturer, furniture store or other establishment, in replenishing his stocks of ice boxes or other types of refrigerators, may be saved much of the time customarily spent by its truck in visiting perhaps several different pickup points.

Aside from the field of refrigeration, the M. & M. Warehouse is equipped and prepared to render a complete and diversified service to manufacturers and brokers, not only in the matter of storage but in the handling of invoices, collections and credits, as well as other services formerly performed by the manufacturer.

The huge M. & M. building, fireproof throughout and further protected by a sprinkler system, offers complete safety against fire damage. It is served by ample A, B & C, spur tracks and by adequate motor truck platform facilities.

Organized in 1947, the Southern Mutual, operating only in Georgia, has returned to its policyholders more than $10,000,000 in dividends and over $8,000,000 in paid claims.

Prior to the War Between the States, the company had paid seven annual dividends to its policyholders. Since that time it has never missed a dividend, which for many years has been maintained at exactly 50 per cent.

"This is an old story to Southern Mutual policyholders," said Mr. Smith, "but residents are amazed at a record which stands alone in the annals of Georgia fire insurance."

"A new development of interest to many residents of Atlanta," continued Mr. Smith, "is the fact that well-constructed and reasonably modern apartment buildings are now acceptable fire insurance risks for the company. Many owners in Atlanta are taking advantage of the Southern Mutual's low net cost for such insurance, thus not only decreasing their own operating cost but increasing their profits."

The office of Smith & Erwin, at 449 Hurt building, is well equipped to handle all lines of insurance and surety bonds.

Southern Stamp, Stencil Co. Returns to Its Old Home
Here is shown the handsome new building at Forsyth and Walton streets, the second floor of which is now occupied by the Southern Stamp & Stencil Company, formerly located on the same site. Note the handsome neon sign on the corner, visible from all directions.

The Southern Stamp & Stencil Company, for the past four and a half months situated in temporary quarters at 107 Walton street, has returned to its old home in the recently rebuilt building on the southeast corner of Forsyth and Walton streets, where R. C. McCoy and T. K. Fuller, its proprietors, assert they are in position to more efficiently serve their customers than ever before.

"We don't believe you will find an office appliance or a piece of factory or shipping room marking equipment," Mr. McCoy asserts, "that cost considered will save you as much time and money as will these items."

Aside from its Atlanta patronage, the Southern Stamp & Stencil Company does a heavy volume of business in the surrounding territory, covering all of Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, as well as north Florida and parts of east Tennessee. Business organizations of all types are invited by Mr. McCoy to write to the company for its catalog.

"After 15 years of serving the public in our line, we feel we have had a measure of success in the development of our plant with the finest of machinery and tools for the prompt execution of orders," says Mr. McCoy. "Mr. Fuller and I feel we owe much to our loyal customers, including R. F. McCrory, R. E. Waddell and C. R. Clark. These men are experts in the work of their respective departments."

The Southern Stamp & Stencil Company, established 15 years ago, manufactures and sells 98 separate items

The new building gives to the company a room space from 25 to 30 per cent larger than heretofore. White walls and new lighting arrangements lend themselves to greater efficiency and perfection in the company's workmanship. Experience in Art of Killing Needed to Administer German Law.

LEIPZIG, Germany, May 17.—(AP)—Germany's future lawyers and judges must throw hand grenades and be able to shoot to kill before they are qualified to administer the law.

In addition to a year in the army and six months in the labor service, the annual convention of the "Reichsfuehrer Hitler's soldiers of the law" from a camp at Jüterbog, where 700 students took part in the Nazi reformed legal system today.

Wearing thick, dark brown uniforms with crossed belts, they marched into the supreme court, where some 10,000 members of the "Reich law students' association" are holding their annual convention here.

They heard Hans Frank, commissioner of justice, extol Nazi justice and ideals.

The "lawyer-soldiers" are sleeping on straw in a warehouse while on duty at the convention.
